Cape Medical Supply Acquires Sleep Therapy Assets of Enos Home Medical

SANDWICH, MA – Cape Medical Supply is pleased to announce the acquisition of the sleep therapy assets of Enos Home Medical (EHM), a long-time provider of sleep therapy services in Southeastern MA and RI. The transaction was completed on July 31.

“We continue to focus our efforts on building the premiere hospice partnership service in New England,” commented Enos’ President Jonathan Enos. “Cape Medical has a wonderful sleep therapy program and we are confident our patients will be well cared for by them in the future. We can now narrow our focus and continue to build on the parts of our organization that we see as vital to the future.”

Cape Medical Supply is based in Sandwich, MA and operates across MA, RI, NH and ME. The company was founded in 1977 by Mark and Nancy Sheehan and remains family owned. The organization has undergone a decade long strategic transformation, focused on enhancing their sleep therapy program and remaining vital in an increasingly complex reimbursement and regulatory environment.

“We are very excited to expand our patient volumes in Southeastern MA and RI,” said Gary Sheehan, Cape Medical Supply President & CEO. “We continue to partner with the leading healthcare organizations across New England and leading health insurance providers in this marketplace. Our focus on digital solutions yields a very positive patient experience and we are very proud of our sleep therapy outcomes – our focus on data delivers healthier, more engaged and more satisfied patients.”

This is Cape Medical Supply’s fourth transaction of significant size, following the acquisitions of Cape & Islands Oxygen of Hyannis, MA from Cape Cod Healthcare in 2005, the acquisition of Seacoast Sleep Solutions of Kittery, ME in 2011, and New England Medical Homecare of Worcester, MA in 2016.
